Issue 2/06

Service 240 new operator and revised timetable

Know where you're going. And when.

Getting the most out of public transport is a whole lot easier if you are given clear, easy-to-follow information, when and where you need it. And we are committed to giving you just that.

The Network West Midlands initiative is being rolled out across the West Midlands during 2006 & 2007, with the aim of making it easier than ever to get around the West Midlands by connecting our region's bus, rail and Metro services into one joined up, easy-to-navigate Network.

You'll notice major improvements in public transport travel information, including better and easier-to-use journey information, especially at stops, stations and interchanges. The aim is to make using public transport simpler at every stage of your journey, and give you the information you need to make connections between buses, trains and Metro.

Tickets

We are also introducing a new range of Network West Midlands tickets for bus, rail and Metro which will replace the existing Centrocard, Busmaster and Railmaster tickets.

Centrocard is changing to nnetwork

Busmaster is changing to nbus

Railmaster is changing to ntrain

Daytripper is changing to nnetwork daytripper

24 Hour Clock

One minute past midnight to noon is expressed as 0001 to 1200. Afternoon to Midnight is expressed as 1201 to 2400.

Examples of times:

7.30am = 0730 7.30pm = 1930

9.00am = 0900 9.00pm = 2100
